REPORT OF THE Superintendent of Schools.

To the School Board of Hill:

I herewith submit my seventh report as superintendent of Hill schools.

The public's knowledge of its schools, and too often its only interest, is limited to what it costs to sustain them. And even then, from the study of the Treasurer's report for a single year, the principal interest, centers in the query "Did the schools cost more or less than the previous year"? Few analyze this report sufficiently to determine the cause of increase or decrease in expenditure.

The superintendent's report is one source of direct information to the public, not only concerning the financial management of the schools, but its other administrative features.

We hear much these days about the increasing cost of education. Let us briefly consider this aspect as it applies to Hill:

In 1918, nearly 17% of total town expenses was for schools. Ten years later, in 1927 about 20% was for schools. In 1918 it cost the town of Hill $25,575.11 to run its business affairs; it cost the schools $4,517.30. In 1927 it cost the town $31,529.21 and the schools $6,466.07. Over the ten year period, the average cost of the schools has been 18.7% of the average total expense of the town as a whole.

This is a very moderate per cent compared with towns in general throughout the state and is good evidence that, during a period of increasing costs in nearly everything, the increase in school costs has been decidedly reasonable notwithstanding the greater advantages and opportunities now being given the children.

The average cost of the schools of Hill for the past ten years has been $4,800.84 per year. The average cost per pupil of average membership for ten years has been only $58.47, a very economical figure. In 1918 about 17% of the total running expenses of the town was chargeable to the schools; in 1927, about 20%, a relative increase of only 3% in ten years.

The average total cost per pupil of average membership in the local schools, plus the cost of tuition and transportation of those attending schools in other towns has been over the ten year period only $58.57. This is a very low per pupil cost.

The per pupil cost, however, since 1924, when the 8th grade pupils were sent to Franklin and the Center School was closed (1923) and pupils transported to the Village, has increased from $62.93 in 1924 to $83.97 in 1927. While this seems a large increase this total cost per pupil is still much less than that of the average of the state as a whole for 1927 which was $111.02.

The greater part of this increased cost in the schools of Hill has resulted from transportation and tuition costs.

The year previous to the changes in 1923-24, referred to above, there were 88 pupils registered in local schools and only 15 attending schools elsewhere. That year, 1922-23, the total cost of all schooling was $4,156.86 of which $726.84 was paid for tuition and transportation.

In 1924-25, the first year the eighth grade pupils went to Franklin, the tuition and transportation charges amounted to $2,192.53 which was 42% of the entire cost of schooling. Only about $550.00 of this amount was due to eighth grade pupils however. Tuition pupils numbered 26.

In 1926-27 the total cost of schools was $6,466.07. Transportation cost $1,364.35 and tuition was $1,603.10 for 25 pupils, 19 of whom were high school pupils.

The sum of these two items is $2,967.45 or 46% of the total school costs. At first thought it would seem better financially to return to the old plan of educating the 8th grade pupils at home and opening the Center School. If this had been done in 1927, the town would have saved $285.85 transportation of eighth grade pupils and $316.55 tuition and $648.00 transportation of the Center children, a total saving of $1,248.00.

But a teacher for the "Center School" would have cost this last year not less than $850; fuel about $32.00, janitor service $36.00 and repairs, making the building suitable for use, at least $300.00, making the expense about $1,218.

There would have been about $30 saved in money; but there would have been 6 eighth grade pupils failing to get the advantages that better fitted them for the ninth grade, and those left at Center School losing the educational, social and inspirational values that come from the larger classes and larger schools.

I consider that the children of Hill have been much better provided for educationally under the present arrangement than they could have been under the arrangement previous to 1923. and at a net extra expense this last year of about $30.00. The cost of schools in Hill, as everywhere, has increased the past three years but the extra advantages offered are fully commensurate with the increase. Hill is now paying on every $1,000.00 of its equalized valuation $8.44 for its schools. There are 92 cities and towns in the state paying less and 148 paying more, two paying over $20.

It may be of interest to know where the money goes.

For every $100 paid for schooling in Hill for 1927:

|        |  |
|--------|--|
| $4.46 | was paid for administration (officers, salaries, census, printing, etc.) |
| 31.18  | teachers' salaries.  |
| 1.49   | text-books and supplies.   |
| 13.32  | operation and maintenance of plant (janitor, fuel, water, lights, etc.)  |
| .87    | minor repairs and expenses.  |
| 21.26  | auxiliary agencies (health, transportation.)                             |
| 24.79  | tuition.   |
| 2.63   | per capita tax.  |

---

The cost of tuition and transportation of eighth grade pupils the past three years has been $2,577.55 – an average of about $850.00 per year, nearly enough for another teacher to look after them and the seventh grade beside.

The ideal school arrangement for Hill would be additional rooms for seventh and eighth grades, with a teacher specially prepared to do junior high school work, thus permitting both Mechanic Arts and Domestic Arts to be given as a part of their regular course and at the same time benefit those in the lower grades by permitting more time for individual work.

This would mean the expense of a new building with equipment and the difference in expense between present cost of transportation and tuition for the 8th grade and that of a third teacher, about $200.00. While this arrangement would be ideal it might not be practical nor economical with the average membership of the schools each year becoming less. That the citizens should decide.

The conclusion of this financial discussion is this: Hill is paying about $2,300.00 more per year for schools than five years ago. The transportation and tuition in 1927 was $2,240.00 more than five years ago. The increased cost is practically wholly due to increased transportation and tuition. The larger part of the tuition is for high school pupils which the town would be liable for regardless of local school plans. This transportation was less than the cost of running the school would be.

The present arrangement is as economical as any and probably as satisfactory as far as results are concerned.

The schools of Hill are economically managed and getting good value for money expended. The work of the past year was not wholly satisfactory. The crowded condition of the schools, and though extra teachers were used did not secure all that was hoped for.

This present year the rooms are comfortably filled and the two teachers are managing things very satisfactorily, though more efficient work could be done if each could be relieved of one grade.

The pupils in the Hill schools test up generally very satisfactorily to the standards of like grades in the country as ascertained by the standard tests given.

Hill has good schools and good schools are largely due to good teachers.

The people seem interested in their schools but do not visit them as much as they should. The superintendent requests and urges parents to consult with him about the progress and welfare of their children in the schools in Hill as well as of those at Franklin.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED S. LIBBEY, Superintendent of Schools.
